WAR

Attacks to the north of Bihleric, southeast of Rethne, at Fouain and at Perthes have been partly repelled by us with heavy losses to the French.

The situation in east and west Prussia is unchanged.

Battles for possession of the branches of the Oaura river west of Warsaw continue.

The situation on the right bank of the river Pilica remained unchanged. We captured a section of machine guns, including the gun crews. A violent counter attack was repulsed. We also made progress to the northeast of Rausenbourg, where further counter attacks on the part of the enemy were without success.

There has been perceptible advance on the part of our troops in the forest of La Grunie against front trenches 100 yards wide and running not less than 260 yards deep. We blew up with mines two of these German lines of works and occupied the excavation.

The fighting is going on in the vicinity of Bourguille, with the outcome fairly serious. It would appear not to have been possible to retain entirely the positions acquired yesterday morning.

There has been no incident from the heights of the Meuse to upper Alsace.

Russia. In east Prussia the Germans have been driven back on the line from Neidenburg to Soldau to Lautenburg. In Poland the Germans were successful in getting a footing on the lower Bzura, to the north of Szczecin. Farther to the south they reached the Rawka river at Bialowice, and they have passed Skierewice, moving to the east.

Austro-German forces are moving into Poland along a front which runs from a point to the southeast of Piotrkow to the west of the river Nida, in Galicia. They have reached the river Dunajec, and they occupy a line from Grybow to Smigrod to Sanok.

The effort at a sortie made by the Przemysl garrison resulted in complete failure.

In the region of Arras a heavy fog made it necessary for both the enemy and ourselves to lessen our activities.

To the east of Amiens, on the Aisne and in Champagne, there have been ancillary engagements.

In the region of Perthes-Les-Hurles, we carried after a spirited cannonade and two assaults, the last section of the line which we occupied in part December 21. We made an average gain of 800 yards. In the last trench which came into our possition, we captured a section of machine guns, including the gun crews. A violent counter attack was repulsed. We also made progress to the northeast of Rausenbourg, where further counter attacks on the part of the enemy were without success.

The Teutonic allies on December 18 attacked the outskirts of Pinskow, 25 miles east of Miechow and were unsuccessful in crossing the river. Subsequently, however, they were thrown back with heavy losses, after a desperate fight.

The Russians are in force along the Pilica river, 20 miles southeast of Pietrkow. The gap between that position and the Nida river is occupied by five divisions of German cavalry. The two Russian armies are seeking to close in, moving in the direction of Opoczno. Near the latter point, in the vicinity of the town of Siedlce, an Austrian force was defeated several days ago, losing 1,600 men and seventeen officers.

It is the opinion of Russian military critics that the action in this territory is intended by the Germans to draw away the Russians from the vicinity of Cracow by threatening their communications.

The official announcement of Russian successes in Galicia is interpreted here as meaning a definite defeat of the third Austrian advance. The Russians claim to have taken the offensive, attacking successfully the entire southern frontier forces of the Austrians under General Von Boehm-Ermolli. The attack extends along the river Dunajec as far as the upper valley of the San. The Austrians who were on December 18, made a desperate sortie, but was driven back on the fortifications with heavy losses. Simultaneously the Austrian division which was advancing toward Dubno was attacked with incendiary bombs and forced to flee, leaving an enormous number of dead. The Russians captured 1,000 prisoners, including ten officers.

To the west of the road leading to Baldfeld, an Austrian corps was attacked by Russians at Rybachatz, on a front descending from Rya to Yodlow. The Austrians were thrown back, leaving about 1,500 dead in the field.
